

STATE TAX RATE DROPS 22 CENTS

PLACED NEAR FORMER LEVY

R. C. Clarke, Clerk of Board of Review States Reduction in Sum Raised Will Be Material.

(Special to The Argus.)

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 30.—The 1913 state tax rate of 70 cents per $100 was reduced to 48 cents at a meeting held today by the governor, the state auditor and state treasurer.

There is in the treasury a balance of $10,000,000 increased fees and revenues from nearly every department of state government, making the reduction feasible.

The above reduction brings the state tax rate back to within 9 cents of what it was when advanced to 70 cents. At that time, a year ago, it was 77 cents.

Material Reduction, Says Clarke. R. C. Clarke, deputy county clerk, and clerk of the board of review, in an interview today stated that at this time he would be unable to say exactly how much difference in taxes the change of 22 cents would make in the amount of state taxes to be collected in the county, but of which there will be a material reduction.

Not Disconcerted.

An old negro minister was recently interrupted in the course of his sermon by a loud laugh from one of the congregation. He stopped his discourse and said:

"De 'postle has told us dat 'er hearty laugh does good like medicine," but de brudder is 'spectfully 'minded dat dis ain't er doctor's office, nor er 'pothecary's shop,' and then he resumed his sermon.—Los Angeles Times.

Now that the excitement is over, the American tourists who were caught by the war are probably thankful that they know what to do the next time they are in Europe and a war breaks out.
